A hands-on introduction to the role of the “audience advocate,” better known as a “dramaturg.” Students will contribute to the development of new performance works by Carolina Performing Arts (CPA) artists -- internationally acclaimed choreographer Zoe Scofield and interdisciplinary artist Kaneza Schaal (theatre, film, opera) -- participating directly with the artists in their creative processes through research, creative response, and discussion.

For more information -- agraham9@email.unc.edu, perucci@unc.edu